PROFESSIONAL HISTORY

Ryan is a highly motivated planner with over 14 years' experience traversing a broad range of urban design, statutory and strategic projects within the private sector, and local and state governments.

Ryan commenced his planning career with the City of Tea Tree Gully as a Planning & Compliance Officer in 2010, before moving onto the Development Assessment Commission (within DPTI) as a Planning Officer.

Prior to joining the Ekistics team, Ryan held several senior and team leader roles within Victoria within the private sector across a period of 7 years. In 2021, he returned to South Australia with Ekistics.

EXPERIENCE

Ryan's background in architecture and urban design means that he brings a design sensitivity and practicality to the process.

Being a seasoned strategic thinker, Ryan has 'implementation' front of mind at the outset of his projects. This ensures that the strategic analysis, vision and objectives, can be readily translated into tangible outcomes using the best planning tools available.

Ryan has led the delivery of a range of projects both in size and complexity. This includes structure planning and strategic analysis across greenfield areas, established areas undergoing renewal, major retail activity centres, and regional townships. He has also facilitated approvals for modest commercial and residential development applications, through to large-scale greenfield developments (up to 5,000 allotments).

Ryan understands that the key to great service is responsiveness – ensuring that issues are addressed quickly, and projects keep moving. Placing great value on strong client relationships, Ryan takes pride in working to move from simply a planning consultant, to becoming your trusted planning advisor.

Ryan is personable and tenacious in equal measure, and combined with his IAP2 accreditation, makes him a very effective engagement specialist and presenter.
